PRICE ONE CENT.

NEW YORK, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1889.

Letters' Genuineness.

Him To-Day.

in Court.

London, Feb. 21.-In the Parnell Commission to-day Richard Pigott took the wit-

The court-room and adjacent corridors were filled with people, and a large crowd

Pigott, being sworn, said he met Murphy gathered in front of the Law Courts.

ness-s and.

vidence.

PRICE ONE CENT.

ALL THE LATEST NEWS

VICTORIA'S SPEECH.

Complete Local Government for England and Scotland.

The Oueen Submits Recommendations to Parliament.

increased Estimates Necessary for Na tional Defenses to Offset the Action of European Powers.

THY CABLE TO THE PRESS NEWS ASSOCIATION. LONDON, Feb. 21.—Parliament reassembled io-day. The royal speech, reopening the session, was read by commission.

It is in substance as follows : Since the last session of Parliament nething has occured to affect the cordial relations with all foreign powers.

The operations of the British forces Egypt and Thibet have been brought to a faforable conclusion. I have consented to enter into a conference with Germany and the United States at Berlin on Samoan affairs in continuance of the conference recently held at Washington. An increase of the estimates for National defense is rendered necessary by the action of the European Powers. Bills will be introduced making local government complete in England and preparing for the same in Scotland.

Measures will be proposed to develope the resources of Ireland, and amending the procedure of various tribunals dealing with redure of various tribunals dealing with real property in Ireland.

Recent statutes there are restoring confidence and having salutary results.

Legal previsions are necessary for the execution of the Sugar Bounties Convention and the conversion of Three Per Cents.

A measure is also necessary for restoring gold coinage to a satisfactory condition.

Bills will be introduced converning the Universities of Scotland; with reference to the liability of emuloyers for accident to the liability of employers for accident to the liability of employers for accident to their workmen; establishing a Department of Agriculture; lessening the expense of the transfer of land, and remedying the abuses attaching to joint stock companies, limited. In conclusion the Queen invokes the bless ing of the Almighty upon the labors of Par-

HAS LOST FAITH IN MAC.

Ed McAvey Would Rather Put His Mone

on Meyer, He Says.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]

BOSTON, Feb. 21.—Ed McAvoy, the West End sporting man, was one of the interested spectators of the recent fight between McAulife and Meyer. Mr. McAvoy said to The Evening World correspondent, among other things: "There are two things that I learned out at at North Judson last Wednesday," One is that Billy Meyer is a good fighter and the other is that Jack McAuliffe is an overrated man.

the great Bonairs quartet of California millionaires.

Flood and O'Brien stuck to the saloon. Mackey and Fair, supplied with money and tools by the other partners, went prospecting for gold.

The men behind the bar found their business increasing rapidly. They moved into more spacious quarters. And all the time they kept their eyes and ears open for points on the mines. They speculated and had good luck.

Mackey and Fair did not prosper so well at first, but in 1865 came the Consolidated overrated man. 'I've been with Jack in all his fights and I thought pretty well of him, but I never had a chance to see him tried out as he was with Meyer.

Both are one-handed fighters. Meyer moves his right like a piston rod, and he can land it pretty often when a man goes into him.
"He's a cool article, too, and if I had money on him I wouldn't fret much about

Which man would you prefer in a finish "Mich man would you prefer in fight?" Mr. McAvoy was asked. "Meyer: because McAulifie can't whip him, and perhaps he can whip McAuliffe." "Do you think Mike Daly can defeat Meyer?"

I don't know about that: but if I thought win big money.

"Meyer's friends will go broke on him, and the backers of the man who can knock him out can easily pull off $50,0.0."

IS THE SPIDER AFRAID?

Benton Says Huvlin Knocked All the Fight

ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD, I Boston, Feb. 21,-Frank Murphy, the English feather-weight, will not have his training quarters at Andover, as his backers, Beuton and Sheppard, are going to make another effort to get the Spider to face him.
"I know," said Benton, "that it is only a waste of time to bother with the Spider, as he is afraid to meet Murphy.

"When Ike fought Havlin in Rhode Island be had all the fight knocked out of him, and since then he would rather fight three rounds for $25 than fight to a finish for a large shown.

If we cannot induce the Spider to keep his agreement we will accept Havlin, and you can bet that we will see a better contest."

MR. MORTON'S INAUGURAL.

Pinni Arrangements for His Trip to Wash-Ington Next Week. The official programme of Vice-Presidenttlect Levi P. Morton's trip to Washington to e inaugurated is complete and was made mown to-day. On Monday night he will be the guest of On Monday night he will be the guest of John F. Plummer at a dinner party. He will leave his city home, at Fifth avenue and Sixteenth street, on Wednesday morning and will have a special drawing-room car on the Pennsylvania Railroad. The only occupants of the car will be Mr. and Mrs. Morton, their family and maids, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Plummer and Miss Plummer.

J. C. FLOOD DEAD. HIS HORRIBLE FATE. PIGOTT'S ADMISSION. BLOWN TO PIECES. BARQUET INNOCENT.

Away at Heidelberg.

Four Struggling Young Partners Who The Poor Man Was Cold and Homeless His Testimony Causes Much Excitement Windows Shattered for Blocks Around Became Money Kings.

Flood's Revenge on the Man Who Spoke of Him Slightingly.

LONDON, Feb. 21. - News is received that last night. James C. Flood, of California, died at the Grand Hotel at Heidelberg at 10 o'clock this

Mr. Flood has long been a sufferer from Bright's disease, and a report of his death, Bright's disease, and a report of his death, which proved to be premature, gained circulation last October.

He had been told before coming to Europe that the disease had a powerful hold upon him, and specialists in New York and London saily informed him that the end was inevitable, though it might be deferred by treatment at Homburg.

He removed from Homburg to Heidelberg last September, accompanied by his wife and daughter, and was apparently much restored, but on Oct. 8 he had a relapse.

THE RISE OF FLOOD.

He Was a Poor Irish Lad-He Became a Bonanza King. James Clair Flood was a native of Ireland, where he was born in 1825.

It was not many years later that he came to New York, and the Spring of 1851 found him bound for California in the ship Elizabeth Ellen.

One Billy O'Brien, who came with young Flood from Ireland, became his partner in a small saloon in San Francisco, and with them were joined later two other young Irish emi-grants, Mackey and Fair. These four partners in after years became the great Bonanza quartet of California mill-ionairse.

irginia discovery, from the old Comstock young men was founded.
Flood did not reture from business when be ot rich enough. It was only in the Spring of 1888 that, learning of his serious physical allment, he settled up his affairs and went to Europe for his health. He had then been ailing several years.

The Bank of Nevada was founded by the uartet of millionaires as a sort of clearing-ouse for the immense operations of the firm, is now owned by John W. Mackey and the Flood estate.

Mr. Flood 'had a palatial residence in San Francisco, the 300-foot lot on which it stands occupying an entire block.

The house, facing on California street, is about one hundred and thirty feet square, and is built in the style of the Italian Renaissance.

sance.
Mr. Flood was of medium height, slightly corpulent, full-faced and had hair and whiskers of a peculiar hue-almost copper-colored.

Revengefulness was a strong trait of his character, and he steadily devoted time and money for months to bring about the financial ruin of Ralston, a California millionaire who once spoke disparagingly of him in the Ex-change. Ralston was driven to suicide.

HE CAME OUT FLYING.

The Boston Beauty in a Bad Box with Kellar. Mike Kelly, the $10,000 baseball-playing beauty from the modern Athens, had a lovely time an evening or two ago with Kellar at Dockstader's. It seems that Mike had heard of the 'razzle dazzle' that Billy O'Brien got in the cabinet with Kellar, and he made up his mind to have a peep behind the curtain and see how to have a peep behind the curtain and see how he would come out. Accordingly Mike and a few friends went to Dockstader's, and when Kellar called for volunteers to go on the stage and tie him before being placed in the cabinet Boston's beauty crossed the footlights with a kind of "betcher sweet life he can't get the best of me" air. Some people in the audience recognized Mike and applauded him.

Mike tied Kellar as tightly as he knew how, Kellar entered the cabinet, and the doors were scarcely closed when a sambourine came flying out through the little opening in the door. With great presence of mind Mike caught the tambourine on the fly. Kellar then invited the ball-tosser to a seat inside the cabinet and Mike entered. The doors were closed, when instantly there commenced a great reaket. Then the doors opened and the Boston beauty came flying out, looking somewhat the worse for wear and wearing. His coat was turned inside out and a mystified look settled upon his countenance as he regained his seat and fixed his coat, amid the laughter of the atidience.

Soston, Mass., has bought from Mr. C. M. A merchant's clerk wrote a check for forty dollars, and spelled the numerical adjective "four-r-t-y. His employer directed his attention to the error, with the remark, "you seem to have a bad spell this morning," to which the clerk replied, "sure enough; I've light wrestler, won three falls from Dufur, of lighthoro, last might and claims the $200 stakes. There were 500 people present.

Did you know ten George Washingtons were living in New York to-day? See to-morrow's Evening World. A Bad Spell. Thomas, of this place, the four-year-old colt Thomas, of this place, the tour-year-old consederable, by Victor von Bismarck, dam Edgewater Belle, by Edgewater, for $10,000. Edgemark obtained a record of 2,21 at Lexington on Noy, 1, 1888, and is the winner of ten races, having never lost but two heats. Mr. Robert Bonner, accompanied by Mr. Hamilton Busbey, of New York, were here a few days ago looking at Edgemark with, it was supposed, some idea of buylon him. Bjones-Fine smoke that, Smythers. Smythers-Yeas-Consoles, long Havana filled all to acce Cigarettea.

Cabin of a Tug-Boat.

His Life Story a Romance in Financial Wedged Between Window and Boller Very Damaging Statements Drawn from Terrible Fate of the Foreman of a Gang and Literally Boiled to Death.

and Was Seeking Shelter.

A bitter cold wind went howling along the river fronts this morning. Its chilling influence was felt by a homeless man, who had crawled in between some boxes and barrels on pier 13, East River, to sleep He swoke and wearily walked away to seek some more comfortable shelter. In the slip at the edge of the street the tug-boat J. Jewett was lying. The unfortunate outcast climbed aboard this craft. He tried the latticed shutter on the boiler room window and found it unlocked. He opened it and found the window down. If he could only squeeze in there he was sure of warmth, at least for the night.

It was a hard struggle to get in, however, for the room was small and the boiler took up nearly all the space to within a couple of fact of the winder.

up nearly all the space to within a couple of feet of the window.

The wanderer managed to get one leg in first—he could not get both in at once—then the other, and then by squeezing and wrenching himself downward managed to get his body in until his face was below the level of the window-sill. Two cross beams were the only flooring in the room.

It was dark, and the man could see nothing. He kicked about with his feet, groping for a foothold on the beams, but while doing so smashed the glass water-guage.

so smashed the glass water-guage.

This gave free vent for the boiling hot steam in the boiler.

It poured forth in volumes, enveloping the man from head to foot. He screamed with terror.

le could not move. Desperately he fought to clamber back out of the window.

This was equally impossible. His violent struggles only helped to wedge him more firmly between the hot boiler and the wood-

He struggled to get down.

work of the boiler-room.

His screams were heartrending.
Charley Burns, the fireman, was asleep in a cabin near by with the mate and cook.

Hearing the cries they rushed forth, to find the hot steam pouring out of the narrow

HAVE KILLED HIMSELF.

Be Complete.

ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. I

Hartford. Conn., Feb. 21.—It is now known that every one in the Park Central Hotel at the Edgemark Sold for $16,000.

Scene on the Elevated.

counsel, had taken down in writing at the time, and was now produced in court. In this statement the witness declares his disbelief in the genuineness of the Parnell the hot steam pouring out of the narrow window opening.

They could see nothing else, but an agonized voice came out with the steam pleading.

"Oh, my God, help me!"

Before the firemen could rush down in the engine-room and turn off the steam the cries had ceased.

When the steam melted away the man was found parholled in between hot pines, boiler found parholled in between hot pines, boiler He wrote to Archbishop Walsh offering to expose the whole consuracy.

The Archbishop refused to negotiate with him unless the name of the forger was di-When the steam melted away the man was found parboiled in between hot pines, boiler and woodwork. The skin had slipped off the face, leaving it blood red, raw looking and horrible to gaze upon.

The flesh had been brushed off on the hot pipes, and there it hung dried, in shreds, with portrons of the scalp, with the hair adhering that had been rubbed off in the same was vulged.
These revelations produced an extrordinary sensation in the court, and there was great excitement outside when the news reached the street. LATER.—Mr. Pigott was cross-examined by Sir Charles Russell.

The witness admitted that he wrote a letter to Archbishop Walsh under the seal of confession.

The following is the letter in question, which was produced in court amid general It was written three days before the publication of the first article on "Parnellism and Crime" in the Times. It is dated March 4, 1887.

adhering that had been rubbed off in the same way.

So tightly was the poor fellow wedged in there that it required the exertion of four men to drag him out.

He was laid on the deck, with some old clothes thrown over his poor face.

He was identified after daylight this morning as Charles McCormack, aged forty, resident of Boston, who had been employed as a freman on some of the North River tugboats. He had been out of work lately and had no place to sleep for several days past.

Some irresponsible person reported, in con-Your Grace: I am aware of the details of the proceedings, the object of which is to destroy the Parnell party in Parliament.
I cannot enter more into particulars than to state that these proceedings consist of the pub-Some irresponsible person reported, in conthat he was a thief who had met his death while attempting to plunder the vessel. Capt. Brandon, of the Jewett, indignantly denied this. To an Evening World reporter ication of statements surporting to prove the complicity of Mr. Parnell himself and some of is supporters with murders and outrages. These charges established, they are to be wed up with criminal proceedings by aid: There was absolutely nothing of value in

Sovernment,
Your Grace may rest assured that I speak from ull knowledge. I am in a position to prove beyond doubt or question the truth of what I say. I can point out to Your Grace how these designs can be successfully combated and deeated.

My only motive in writing is to suggest that the boiler-room that he could steal, and the men who have identified his body assure me that he was an honest fellow.

"I am sat shed that if it was booty he was looking for he would not go to the boiler-room to look for it, being familiar enough with tugboats to know that he would get litcated.

My only motive in writing is to suggest that Your Grace communicate the substance of my statement to the parties concerned. I am unable to apply to the parties direct.

I fear I am running the risk of your displeasure: but unless my suggestion is met the proceedings will succeed in their object. le or nothing there.
"The unfortunate man was drinking yesterday and went to sleep on the pier last night. When he awoke he was cold and then came aboard to try and get into the boiler-room for warmth," he concluded. The body was sent to the Morgue. P. S.—I need hardly add that if I dreamt that the parties were guilty of the charges I should not press Your Grace to shield them. The evidence against them is in appearance convincing, and probably sufficient to secure conviction by an English jury. IT WAS PROBABLY SUICIDE.

To this letter is added the following post-

BUT NO ONE KNOWS WHY KENNEDY SHOULD KNOCKED OUT IN THE SEVENTH ROUND. Shannon Planted One Between Genghan's

Eves and He Went Down Like a Log. J. D. Kennedy was found dead in his HER CIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD, I room at the Putnam House this morning. SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21. The fight be-

It is thought that he committed suicide by tween Shannon and Geoghan, middletaking prussic soid.

He had seemed to be always well supplied with money, but did not appear to have any weights, at the Golden Gate Club last night, ended in the seventh round with a clear pecial business.
One of the porters went up to his room to knock-out for Shannon. Club members had backed Geoghan heavily, and in the second round they set up a vell when it looked as though Shannon was

One of the porters went up to his room to call him, and not receiving any response broke in the door.

Deputy Coroner Jenkins gave permission to remove the body to an undertaker's.

There is no known reason for the suicide. whipped.

He rallied, however, and in the fifth and sixth rounds stugged Geoghan terribly, closing one eye and badly using up the other.

In the seventh he hit Geoghan square between the eyes, and the latter went down like VICTIMS OF THE EXPLOSION. The Published List Is Fortunately Found to s log.

Both men showed science and pluck.

NORTH STAR WINS THE PENNANT. The Annual Ice-Yacht Regatta at Poughkeepsie Yesterday.

time of the explosion has been accounted for.
The hotel register has been found, but is partially burned.
The clerk's memory serves to show that there [SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] were but eleven transient guests that night. This, added to the other occupants, would make a total of thirty-seven or thirty-eight per-POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Feb. 21, - The annual ice-yacht regatta of the Carthage Landing Ice-Yacht Club, for the class pennant, ocons. The published list of the victims is therefore curred late yesterday. The starters were White Wing, Ethel, Whiz and North Star.
The distance sailed was twenty niles, and the race was won by the North Star in th.
Im. 5s. Miss W. V. Wilson, Frank Swan and [BPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD,]
PARIS, Ky., Feb. 21.—Col. H. R. Russell, of im. 5s. Miss W. V. Wilson, Frank Swan and Mr. Van Cox, of the Ocean Steamship Com-pany, New York, were guests of the Club.

GREENVILLE, CAL., IN ASHES.

Five Hundred People Rendered Hemeless-The Lass About $200,000.

PERCIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21. - The business houses and most of the residences in the village of Greenville, Cal., were burned yester-day. There are about five hundred people in the place. The loss is about $200.000.

A Famous Bonanza King Passes Killed by Scalding Steam in the The "Times's" Witness Doubted the Dynamite's Terrible Work on the Western Boulevard.

and a House Wrecked.

Thought by Some to Have Been an Earthquake

The roar of exploding dynamite and a shower of stones, carth and glass made dire confusion this morning all around West Seventy-seventh street and the Bonleyard.

Intense interest was manifested to hear the The windows were shattered in nearly all the buildings for the area of half a mile, from Seventy-second street to Eighty-third casually in Paris; Murphy introduced himself as formerly a compositor in Pigott's street. People rushed from their houses and many thought it was an earthquake. office. After several interviews, Murphy agreed to find out where the Parnell letters A large box of dynamite cartridges, where a cellar is being excavated near the corner of He ultimately told Pigott of a black bag Seventy-seventh street and Boulevard, had containing the first batch of letters, and said he could have it for £500. Pigott returned to Dublin to obtain instructions, and went back blown up. As soon as the few people who were in the Dublin to obtain instructions, and went back to Paris with the money.

In the mean time the Clan-na-Gael had claimed the letters.

This difficulty was finally overcome and the letters were delivered to Pigott, he swearing before the Tribunal of Five never to reveal the circumstances under which he had obtained them, or the names of the persons from whom he had received them, and never to appear as a witness with reference to them. immediate neighborhood had recovered from the shock they rushed to the spot. A few minutes before a large tool-box had stood there, and a man had just opened it. When the men got there there was nothing but two holes in the ground, where the box had stood, and pieces of torn and bloodbespattered bones and flesh. never to appear as a witness with reference to them.

The letters were brought to Dublin and duly handed over to Houston.

The witness denied in the most solemn and emphatic manner that he forged the letters.

Mr. Pigott, continuing, said he bought the second batch of letters from Tom Brown, and secured them after going through the erramony of taking the oath of secrecy before the tribunal of five. All around there were sickening indications of what had taken place.

The man who had been blown to fragments was James Jewett Smith, the foreman of the gang of men who had been working on the premises.

Smith was sixty years old, and lived with his family and 502 West Fifty-fifth street. tribunal of five.

The third batch of letters was bought of a Then began a search for the remains After an hour's work about sixty pounds of The oath was taken as before and the price shattered bones were put in an old soap box agreed upon paid in each case.

He declared that he never released Houston from the obligation of secrecy.

Pigot acknowledged that he made the statement which Mr. Lewis, the distinguished and taken to the One Hundredth street police Scraps of the man's clothing were found all around for a distance of sixty feet, and a sickening relic in the shape of a part of his heast was picked up 125 feet away, quite a dis-heat was picked up 125 feet away, oute a distance above Seventy-eighth street.

The explosion had occurred on the grounds formerly owned by Fernando Wood and only about 60 feet from the ex-Mayor's old Bloomingdale mansion.

The property is now owned by a man named Stiner, who purchased it two months ago from Stearns, the Fortieth street butcher.

Since the property was bought a gang of ten or twelve men have been excavating the collars. The property extends along the collars. The property extends along the Boulevard about seventy-five feet, and has a fromage on Seventy-seventh street of 10° feet. It was intended to erect three elegant lat houses.

The work was being done by Hickey & Circen, who had placed Smith in charge. The oreman was an old builder, and must have fully appreciated the danger of handling explosives.

Nevertheless, the dvnamite cartridges, which are now said to have numbered over one hundred and measuring eight inches in length, were stored away in an old wooden tool-box along with a large number of "exploders," or caps, at d a lot of iron tools.

Snith arrived at 6, 20 o'clock this morning and prepared for the day's work. His men were distributed around the excavation. At about 6, 30 he started to open the tool chest in which the cartridges were stored.

about 6.30 he started to open the tool chest in which the cartridges were stored.

The chest was on a ridge in front of a tree.
Before going up the hill, he stopped to speak to the engineer in regard to the progress of the work. Then he continued on.

Suddenly there was an explosion and the en whom he had left a few mements before The limbs of the tree had been blown away, and there was a large crack at the base of the tree where the box had stood.

A piece of heavy chain was found sixty feet off, and an eighteen-pound sledge hammer was picked up near West End avenue, nearly one hundred feet distant. There were scraps of steel drills lying around, and a twisted steel crowbar was discovered forty feet away.
All of the windows in a large stable 100 feet behind the place of the explosion were broken, and the concussion had played gen-crat have inside of the building. Parts of the ceiling fell and a lock was forced from the door.

P. McCaffrey, the watchman, who lives on the second floor, showed an EVENING WORLD reporter around through the building. It At the time of the explosion Mrs. McCaffrey was sitting by the kitchen stove. A flying piece of glass struck her in the face and cut a piece of glass struck her in the face and cut a deep gash in her cheek.

The McCaffrey children slept in a room facing the scene of the accident, but they escaped without injury.

The windows were blown in in half-inch pieces, but the children were saved by the heavy curtains which hung at the windows.

Two large pieces of Smith's flesh were found stuck to the iron window guards, and two more scraps about the size of a man's hand were taken from the roof.

Soon after the explosion a crowd of curi-

Soon after the explosion a crowd of curi-osity seekers gathered around. As soon as they came across a bone or a scrap of flesh they would pick it up and throw it in a box near the tree.

Small pieces of the dead man's clothing re-

Small pieces of the dead man's clothing remained in the neighboring tree-tops.

For a quarter of a mile around there were signs of the horrible disaster. Houses that lost all their windows, and the holes were stopped up with blankets.

Along Seventy-sixth street and West End avenue there was not a window left intact, and all along Tenth avenue as far down as Seventy-second street, and up above Eighty-third street, the sidewalks in some places were covered with glass. were covered with glass.

Mrs. Miller, of 1,330 Tenth avenue, near Eighty-second street, in speaking of the catastrophe said:

"Our family was in bed at the time, and "Our family was in bed at the time, and when the shock came we all thought an elevated railroad train had failen to the street."
Another woman living on Seventy-sixth street said: "Why, we thought it was an earthquake. When the explosion came the house rocked and I thought it would fail. It is the most terrible experience I ever had."

The cause of the explosion will never be known, but it is supposed that when Smith opened the box he dropped a crowbar on an exploder.

The workmen around the place refused to say anything in regard to the accident, and many of them denied that they were employed in the place.

Several of them claimed that the cartridges were not filled with dynamite, but were only ordinary powder torpedoes.

The Mt. Vernon Burglars Found by Inspector Byrnes.

It Is But Another Case of Mistaken Identity.

One of the Robbers Is the Unfortunate Stationer's Double.

Stationer Baronet is innocent of the burglary at Charles Tier's house in Mount Vernon, which occurred early last Saturday

The three men engaged in the affair are locked up at Police Headquarters in this city, where they have made separate sworn

They are Joseph Murphy, Charles Peck and Adolph A. Oster, all professional crooks Peck and Murphy did the inside work, and the former is the man who looked like Sta-mistaken identification of the latter. Oster remained on the watch outside the tioner Barquet, and thus led to Miss Mapes's

Mr. Tier's revolver in getting away. Detectives McAuley and O'Brien saw and recognized the men at One Hundred and Twenty-third street and Third avenue Fri-

O'Brien followed them to One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street and Fourth avenue and saw them buy tickets to Mount Vernon He reported the fact to Inspector Byrnes who, on reading the report of the burglary, at once settled on the three men as the probable burglars. Oster belongs in Mount Vernon, where he has a mother and sister. He put up the job for another house than Tier's, but an entertainment in progress there forced a change of programme.

Legitime Reported to Have Put His Forces to Route.

ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] BOSTON, Feb. 21.-The latest intelligence from Havti is furnished by officers of the steamer Delta, which arrived last evening direct from Port de Paix, having consumed but seven days in making the trip. THE EVENING WORLD correspondent, as usual, was the first newspaper regresentative to board the steamer. From the second officer it was learned that serious conflict between the Northern and Southern armies had occurred about three days before the steamer left, several miles below St. Marc, in which the army under Hippolyte had been completely routed. Between two and three hundred were killed and many wounded. "There is no communication between the coastwise towns." said the officer. "and we learned of this fight from a native mail carrier who had arrived in Port de Paix from St. Marc or the day of our departure. He informed us that the Northerners had first blockaded the port of St. Marc, after which Legitime's army moved towards the which Legitime's army moved towards the interior of the country.

On the second day of the march a detachment of Hippolyte's army was encountered and a fierce engagement ensued with the result as above stated.

"The fighting was conducted mainly from places of concealment and the success of the Southerners was due to the superiority of their country.

their arms, they being supplied with im-proved rifles while the majority of Hippo-lyte's men were obliged to rely on clubs and knives."

"Were you subjected to any insults or detention while at Port de Paix?" asked the reporter.

No. We of course exercised some care in making the harbor and did not run in until after dark.

"We did not see a Haytian man-of-war while "We did not see a Haytian man-of-war while we were there. It is an undoubted fact that Legitime has the best of the fight so far, though from what is heard while ashore I should say that the sentiment of the natives was largely in favor of Hippolyte's ascend-ency to the Presidency of the island. "A rumor has gained considerable currency at Port-de-Paix that Hippolyte has been killed by a Northern soldier, who it is claimed killed by a Northern soldier, who it is claimed received $2,000 either from Legitime or his friends for the commission of the deed."

The steamer Delta is one of the original Cunard fleet, and although she has outlived her usefulness as a companion steamer for such as compose the Cunard fleet of to-day, she is a staunch craft and, as one of the crew remarked last evening, "she can outsail many of the transatiantic steamers now in use." The old house flag of the Cunards still flies from her forepeak.

Major Humersley Must Pay His Daughter 84,500.

Mrs. Adele S. Southwick recovered a verdict f $4,518.64 against her father, Andrew S. Hamersley, brother-in-law of the Duchess of Marlborough, in the Superior Court to-day. When Mrs. Southwick's mother died she was given some property which her father took charge of, giving a bond of $4,000. Mrs. Southwick sned on this bond, and her father's defense was that she had demanded usurious interest at the rate of 0 per cent.

We don't object to crediting a report of Wash ington's first inaugural to a newspaper of 1789. See to morrow's EVENING WORLD.

ALL THE LATEST NEWS

AT GUTTENBURG.

Spring-Like Weather Brings Out a Large Crowd.

Harrodsburg Was Bought In by Dan Honig for $1,200.

Salona in the Third Succeeded in Landing His Maiden Win.

PRPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. 1 NORTH HUDSON DRIVING PARK. N. J., Feb. 21. The springlike weather induced a large crowd o attend the races at Guttenburg to-day. Amos was made a favorite for the first race, and he won at last after many vain attempts. Bonanza was supposed to be a certainty for the second race, but he finished second to Har-rodsburg. The latter was entered to be sold for $800, and after some lively hidding he was bought by Dan Honig for $1, 200.

Salona was made a favorite for the third race and succeeded in landing his maiden win. PHEST BACE. Purse $200; beaten horses; three-quarters of

Amos. 120 (Hathaway) 1
Blizzard, 117 (M. Barrett) 2
Glen Almond, 117 (M. Barrett) 2
Glen Almond, 117 (M. Barrett) 3
Time—1, 23.
Woodstock, Nimrod, Trenton, Tention,
Traveller and Ballot also ran.
The Race.—Blizzard was first away, but Amos immediately took the lead, and holding it to the finish, won by a head from Blizzard, who was three lengths before Glen Almond.
Betting—6 to 5 against Amos to win, 2 to 1 on for a place and 4 to 1 against Blizzard for the place.
Mutucls baid: Straight, $4; for a place, $3.
Blizzard paid, field tholet, $3, 80. Murphy received a shot in the foot from

SECOND BACK. Purse $250; selling allowances; one mile and THIMD BACK. Purse $200; maidens; selling allowances; three-quarters of a mile.

Salona, 107 (Doane) 1
Phil Thompson, 107 (Land) 2
Spring Breeze, 105 (J. Tribe) 3
Timo-1, 23.
Roko, Gatling and Planeroid gelding also ran, The Race—Salona made all the running and won by three lengths from Phil Thompson, who was nive lengths in front of Spring Breeze.

Betting—6 to 5 against Salona to win, 2 to 1 on for a place, 4 to 1 against Phil Thompson for a place. Mutuels paid: Straight, $4, 15; for a place, $3, 40. Phil Thompson paid $14, 15.

FOURTH RACE. Purse, $200; all ages; seven-eights of for a place, and even money against Lafitte for a place. Mutuels paid: Straight, $4.50; for a place, $2.75. Lafitte paid $2.05. FIFTH BACK. Purse $200; selling allowances six and a half furlongs; Can't Tell won, with W. G. Burns second and Electricity third. Time—1, 28%, Mutuels paid: Straight, $7,30; for a place, $2,95. W. G. Burns paid $3.

New Orleans Races Postponed. [SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] NEW ORLEANS RACE TRACK, La., Feb. 21 .-The racing which was to have taken place here co-day, has been postponed until Saturday, Feb. 23, on account of rain. The entries and beating will stand.

Clifton Entries for To-Morrow. SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. 1 CLIPTON RACE TRACE, N. J., Feb. 21.-The following are the Clifton entries for Friday. Feb. 22: First Race.-Purse. $250, six and one-balf furiongs matters. Wheat, 110; Kings.ord, 119; Fakir, 119; Fudder, 119; Nerina, 114; Rotta, 114; Steve Still-will formerly Ready Money), 107; Howe 107; Hes Scotch, 1021b. Second Lace.-Purse. $250; one mile. Lattisfellow 11: 12; Heory George, 124; Havana, 124; Ernses, 124; Doper, 124; Heigraph, 124; Harwood, 126; (faster, 124; ter Enderick, 110; Osborn, 119; Boodis, 110; Chanceller, 1,100;

Race-Purse #250; one mile.-Friar, 124; Top., 124; Van, 124; Songster, 119; Crackaman, thith Race—Purse $500; handleap; six and small turiongs—Gracksman, 124; Speedwell, 123; Gargie, 119; Satisfaction, 113; Long Jack (formers) lector), 119; Ernest, 11; Oscoola, 110; Matte coran, 110; Afred 107; Ponntain, 105; Bayrcher, 103; Lonise, 101; Souvenir, 109; Courties, 8 b. The Race-Purse $250; selling allowances; five-giths of a mile. Harrodoburg. 121 Judge Norton. 1; Relax, 116; Viglance, 1,5; Fred Davis, 1,5; nunt Lons, 110; Hie ferace, 12; Bainds, 110; Molie homas, 110; Harry Brown, 100; Matt Sharpe, Job; (va, 100; Free Lance, 100; May T., 106; Ida Week, 14; Bridget Keaton, 104; Norths, 100 lb.

Guttenburg Entries for To-Morrow. [SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] NORTH HUDSON DRIVING PARK, N. J., Feb. 21. Here are the Guttenburg entries for Friday.

First Race-Three-quarters of a mile; selling allow ness, $200 - John Arkins, 114; Sam N., 110; W., Burns, 100; Lady Archer, 105; Isia, 105; Gatting, 10. Bures, 100; Lady Archer, 105; Isia, 105; Gatting, 102; Bescond Race—Seven furiongs; selling allowances; 2000.—Pendennis, 125; Hairstone, 117; Wilfred Jay, 115; Harry Brown, 112; Commotion, 112; Companison, 112; Companison, 112; Companison, 112; Companison, 112; Friate, 107; Velvet, 107, Pat Oakey, 107, Slasher, 107; Ban Hope, 107 Burgundia, 105; B. Third Race—Glub-House Stakes; 2300; six and one-half furiongs.—Blackthorn, 118; Capulin, 110; Twenhalf furiongs.—Blackthorn, 118; Capulin, 100; Melwood, 100; Deckelle, 130; Amos. 127; Vancluse, 124; Henry B., 121; Blazsed, 116; Sa. Etima, 115; Ballot, 113; Julia Miller, 103; Bonnie Boucke, 104; Miller, 103; Bonnie Boucke, 104; Miller, 103; Capulin Blackthorn, 107; Rodiniamses, 107; E., Ulia Miller, 103; Bonnie Boucke, 104; Miller, 107; Pat Divver, 107; Rodiniamses, 107; E.,

O'Brien Transferred to Galway Jull. INPECTAL CABLE TO THE SYRVING

DUBLIN, Feb. 21.—There was a large gather ng of excited people at Tralee this morning to witness the departure of Mr. William O'Brien to the Galway Jail to serve out his sentence of six months. There was a strong guard in attend-ance, and no disturbance was created other than cheering the marrie cheering the martyr.